

2017 ILLINOIS SENIOR HOLSTEIN CONVENTION GUEST SPEAKER

Greg Forbes Siegman has accepted an invitation to speak at the Illinois Senior Holstein Convention on February 4 in Bloomington. The Illinois native is the subject of The Silhouette Man. The book tells the story of an educator's efforts to use milkshakes to make a difference, his experiences as a student that shaped his path and the grandparent who mentored him. For his civic efforts, Greg has received honors such as the Jefferson Award for Public Service and has been featured by media like Good Morning America. At times, he has written for the media as well -- including publications like Wisconsin State Farmer.

At the Convention, Greg will share his story. He also will reflect on what he has learned from those who have worked and lived in farming communities. The session with Greg, which will take place before lunch, is for the whole family: members, spouses and their children (middle-school-aged and up). To register for the 2017 Convention, please go to www.illinoisholsteins.com.

To order copies of The Silhouette Man (and/or copies of the student edition, The First Thirty) in advance of the event, visit www.GregForbes.com/store. If you want the books signed to you or your kids or specific friends, you can note that in response to the e-mail you receive after placing your order.
